

Web chelseanow.com

Google Search

DISTRIBUTION MASTHEAD MEDIA KIT

SUPPORT THE ADVERTISERS THAT SUPPORT CHELSEA NOW!

gr8 stems
Leasing Gallery Now Open

strut your stuff from the elevator to the car
Free, reserved garage parking with two bedroom apartments for a limited time!

UpperGrand.com 1.888.464.2079
800 Madison Street | Hoboken | Corner of 8th and Madison

800 MADISON
UPPER GRAND
YOUR NEW HOBOKEN

1 BDR/1.5 BA from $2275
2 BDR/2 BA from $2800
3 BDR/3 BA from $4000

Brand new U.A. 5 bedroom
apartment | 1 bedroom pet
friendly | High-end fitness center |
Business center

Top right Chelsea Now photo by Milo Hess; top left Chelsea Now photo by Jefferson Siegel; bottom right Chelsea Now photo by Milo Hess; Chelsea Now photo by Jefferson Siegel

Zombie Crawl, Haunted Hallway scare up a crowd

Halloween started early last Saturday as a group of zombies descended on Union Square and trick-or-treaters loaded up on goodies at the Ryan Chelsea-Clinton Community Health Center in separate spine-tingling events.

Taking part in the New York Zombie Crawl, about 100 local living dead walked, staggered and—yes, in some cases—crawled to Union Square, while trying not to drop limbs along the way.

Farther uptown, the Ryan Center on 10th Ave. between 45th and 46th Sts. held its fifth-annual Halloween Jamboree, giving children the chance to debut their costumes and take a walk through the Haunted Hallway of Terror. The event also featured face-painting, arts and crafts, and storytelling, and families were able access information about the center's services.

These zombies, vampires and witches can join thousands of other ghouls at the 35th Annual Greenwich Village Halloween Parade on Fri., Oct. 31, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., with the lineup starting on Sixth Ave. south of Spring St. Beginning at 7 p.m., the route will move up

Sixth Ave. to 23rd St., and the parade will feature a special performance of Michael Jackson's "Thriller" dance performance to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the song and video.

Home

Chelsea Now is published by Community Media LLC.
145 Sixth Avenue, New York, NY 10013
Phone: (212) 229-1890 Fax: (212) 229-2790
Advertising: (646) 452-2465 •
© 2008 Community Media, LLC

Email: news@chelseanow.com

Written permission of the publisher must be obtained before any of the contents of this newspaper, in whole or in part,
can be reproduced or redistributed.

